JAPANESE WANT HAWAIIAN SISAL

Consul-General to Send Samples of Island-grown Fibre to Merchants.

That the Japanese merchants in Japan are interested in knowing the development of Hawaiian products is evident by the tenor of letters of inquiry which Consul-General S. Uyeno received recently from Japan. Consul-General Uyeno, who is himself a student of industry, having written an able book on "The Industries of Japan," has ordered a fine sample of the Hawaiian sisal fiber, to send to the Japanese merchants in Japan.

In speaking of the Hawaiian fiber, Consul-General Uyeno stated that the merchants in Japan would like to know something about the local products. He is of the opinion that the good qualities of the Hawaiian fiber have apparently convinced the Japanese merchants in Japan that, with proper study, it would be a money-making product in the Japanese market.

The sisal grown at Ewa produces fiber that will be most useful to the Japanese merchants. It was only recently that the fiber experts in New York declared the Island fiber as one of the best in the world's markets.

The first shipment of the Hawaiian fiber will be forwarded by Consul-General Uyeno some time this month, provided he can get the necessary quantity by the time the steamer arrives from San Francisco.

CONDITION OF CUBA SUGAR

Report of the sugar situation in Cuba, as given by Consul General James L. Rogers, the man on the spot is as follows:

The copious rains which fell over practically all Cuba between March 25 and April 1 have done an enormous amount of good to all agriculture, but especially to that devoted to sugar-cane planting. The drought that was broken by these rains had lasted in some sections for four months and in nearly the whole island for three months.

The benefit to the sugar cane will not be felt in this year's output to any great extent, but the young cane plantings and the fields which have been cut can now be expected to give something of a normal tonnage for next year, an issue which would have been more than seriously jeopardized if the drought had continued much longer.

The state of the cane ready for cutting, of course, can not be much changed, and the result is that the current estimates of the 1911 output have been reduced to about 1,400,000 tons, a reduction of about 25 per cent from last season. Many of the mills have closed for the season, and by the last of April the great majority will have done as much as they can. The big American mills in Oriente Province, however, will continue for many weeks, and through their operation principally will come the balance of the tonnage.

Arrangements are going forward for the observance of Peace Day next Wednesday in the public schools, according to Superintendent Pope's recommendations. Peace day may also be observed in the churches next Sunday.
